GCD: Governor’s Council on Disability

Volume 5, Number 1, February 2019

GCD Update

The year 2019 has already been very exciting for the Governor’s Council on Disability (GCD). GCD is involved in several committees and workgroups that promote full inclusion of individuals with disabilities. Some of those include: Emergency Management, Preparedness and Response, First Responder Disability Awareness Training (FRDAT), and the Missouri Policy Summit on Post-Secondary Education for students with I/DD.

Just last week, Governor Parson announced Missouri’s selection for a technical assistance program aimed at expanding employment and training opportunities, and making Missouri a Model Employer for individuals with disabilities. The Governor’s Council on Disability is very excited to participate in this initiative. Over the next several months, representatives from the Governor’s Office and partnering state agencies, along with Paraquad and the Missouri Chamber of Commerce will work on improving employment opportunities. March is Cerebral Palsy Awareness Month

February and March are full of opportunities to help bring awareness to many different health and disability topics. All of the topics are equally as important as the next, but one is closest to my heart—Cerebral Palsy (CP). Growing up with a brother who has CP, helped shape me and choose my career path. But, it also made me want to educate others about CP and other disabilities. March is Cerebral Palsy Awareness Month and the 25th of March is Cerebral Palsy Awareness Day. Green is the color for cerebral palsy awareness, so you should wear green on more than just St. Patrick’s Day!

There are about 17 million people who have Cerebral Palsy, and around 350 million people are connected to someone with CP. It is the most common childhood disability, and 1 in every 500 babies are diagnosed with CP. Cerebral Palsy doesn’t fit into a one-size-fits-all box. There are several types of cerebral palsy, with many variations. No two people with the disability will have it in the exact same way. There are four types of CP: Spastic, Dyskinetic, Ataxic and Mixed. Cerebral Palsy is unique, and may have certain complications that differ in each case. It can affect body movement, muscle control, muscle coordination, muscle tone, reflex, posture, balance, fine motor skills, gross motor skills and oral motor functioning.

Missouri Youth Leadership Forum Update
by Rachel Rackers

Rohan Murphy, a nationally recognized youth speaker, is this year’s Missouri Youth Leadership Forum (MO-YLF) keynote speaker and is scheduled to speak to the delegates and alumni on Tuesday, July 16th. Rohan’s story is inspiring and encourages others to achieve their goals, no matter what obstacles they may face. We look forward to having Rohan kick off our week that will be filled with various activities and opportunities for growth!

As a reminder, the dates for 2019 MO-YLF are July 16-20th and the event is held at the University of Missouri in Columbia, MO. While at MO-YLF, the delegates will gain skills, knowledge, self-confidence, and much more. It is important for the delegates to be able to apply these skills once they are back home from the forum. This year, we are adding a session on the last day for parents/guardians. During this session, we cover a variety of topics that will be helpful for parents as they support their transition-aged youth. Along with the addition of adding a parent session, we will also be incorporating several new topics throughout the week. Some of those topics are different parts of independent living (IL), history of IL, and also relationships.

Applications for delegates and volunteer staff are still being accepted and available on our website at http://disability.mo.gov/gcd/ylf.htm. The deadline for delegate applications is March 31, 2019.

If you know of a student with disabilities who has leadership potential, please share the information about this exciting program with them. GCD is looking for applicants from all areas of the state. MO-YLF is free of cost to the students who are selected. This is all made possible because of donations and sponsorships. If you or your organization would like to help us make this great program possible, please contact GCD for more information.

For questions, please contact the Governor’s Council on Disability at (800) 877-8249 or (573) 751-2600.

Disability Rights Legislative Day
by Claudia Browner

The 18th Annual Disability Rights Legislative Day has been scheduled for Wednesday, March 13, 2019 in Jefferson City.

The rally is hosted by the Missouri Developmental Disabilities Council and is attended by individuals with disabilities, advocates and disability organizations to meet with legislators and bring attention to disability-related topics.

The event is held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the First Floor Rotunda of the Missouri State Capitol.

For the agenda and detailed information, please visit the DD Council’s website at http://www.moddcouncil.org/?page_id=whatsnewstory&id=34
GCD offering Legislative Education Project

by Laura Mueth

Do you have a group of 10 or more individuals who would like to learn about the legislative process, how to communicate with legislators, and other relevant topics? The Legislative Education Project might be an option.

The Governor’s Council on Disability’s offerings include:
• Online videos and modules
• A presentation in your community, and

Groups from Kansas City, Springfield, St. Joseph, and St. Louis have already contacted our office. Yours could be next.

Meet Council Member James Trout

by Claudia Browner

James Trout was appointed to the Governor’s Council on Disability in 2009. In 2011, he was elected Acting Chair of the Council and served in that capacity until 2015. To date, he continues to serve as a Council member.

James raised two sons in Webster Groves, the eldest having Williams Syndrome. “Having a son with a disability didn’t make me an expert on anything other than patience with a sense of humor, but it did give me a real appreciation for a large segment of the population that interacts with our world differently than I did.”

James also served as chair of the Council’s Advocacy Committee and Programs Committee and took a real interest in two specific Council Goals when he joined the GCD: Encourage system changes and public policies that eliminate barriers, and expand opportunities for independence.

James lead two initiatives while serving as Acting Chair. The first was to develop a Council policy statement on Indoor Air Quality. The intent was to better inform and protect those with chemical sensitivities. The result, though, helps everyone stay alert to the indoor environmental toxins that cause disease and disability. The second initiative was to establish uniform accessibility standards for housing built using state incentives. The Universal Design (UD) Coalition convinced the Missouri Workforce Housing Association and the Missouri Housing Development Commission to adopt UD standards for all housing built using Missouri tax credits, now incorporated in state standards.

Mr. Trout’s background includes 30 years as a Designer/Builder and the last decade as an industry expert in energy efficiency and indoor environmental.

Mr. Trout served on several boards and committees, such as the Parent Leadership Institute, Building Performance Institute, Green Builders Council (HBA), and Missouri Association of Realtors, just to name a few.
March is Cerebral Palsy Awareness Month

A common mishap for individuals with CP, is that they are treated as if they have an intellectual disability when in reality, most people who have the condition have normal to above-average intelligence.

So what can you do for Cerebral Palsy Awareness Month? You can educate yourself and others about it. Everyone who has CP is affected so differently by it, which tends to create many rumors and misunderstandings. If you hear something that is stated wrong, politely correct the person with factual information. Lastly, I challenge you to get to know someone who has CP or any other disability.
